6. Quality Standards

At Sprout Style Swap, while we strive to maintain general quality standards, we do not individually inspect each item. Our primary function is to facilitate a marketplace for sellers and buyers. However, we reserve the right to remove any items that do not meet our quality standards. If an item is removed from the sales floor, our team will note the reason on the tag. Please do not re-enter rejected items into future sales.

- Safety Guidelines: We may offer safety tips to participants, but it is ultimately the seller's responsibility to ensure the safety of the items sold and purchased.
- Hanger Guidelines: Children's hangers allowed for 5T and below but adult-sized hangers should be used for any larger sizes; metal hangers are preferred but plastic and felt hangers are also accepted.
 - Adult hangers can be obtained at a low cost from most dry cleaners or on Facebook Marketplace.
 - For small clothing, safety pin them to the outside of adult hangers.
 - Orient the hanger so that the opening faces left resembling a question mark.
- Preparing Your Items:
 - Refer to the 'Items Accepted' list.
 - Check if your equipment is on the recall list provided. Recalled items are not accepted.
 - We only accept items that are of high quality, clean, and current. Scrutinize each item as if you were the buyer.
 - Inspect for stains, holes, missing parts, etc., as these disqualify items.
 - Clean baby equipment thoroughly, including washing fabric covers of car seats and strollers, to increase the likelihood of selling.
 - Utilize a magic eraser for tough marks on toys and shoe soles.
 - Lysol wipes are great for cleaning toys and equipment.
 - Freshly laundered and ironed items are more likely to sell.

1. Supplies Needed

For organizing and tagging items, the following supplies are needed:

- Zip ties, also known as cable ties. Found at Dollar Tree.
- Cardstock (65lb):
 - Colored (pastel or neon shades, light colors only): For items that sellers wish to retrieve if unsold. Please avoid using dark colors like dark red or dark blue, as well as beige or cream, as these are either hard to scan or too close to white.
 - White Card Stock Paper: Specifically for items to be donated to charity.
- Scissors for cutting tags and preparing items.
- An ink pen for labeling or writing on tags.
- A hole punch for attaching tags to items.
- Painter's tape for securing items with delicate covers.
- Quart, gallon, and/or 2 gallon size plastic bags: To package shoes and small, loose items.
- Packing tape for securely closing bags and attaching tags.

Note: It's important not to use dark colored card stock as it interferes with scanning processes, and avoid beige or cream colors, which could be mistaken for the white donation tags.

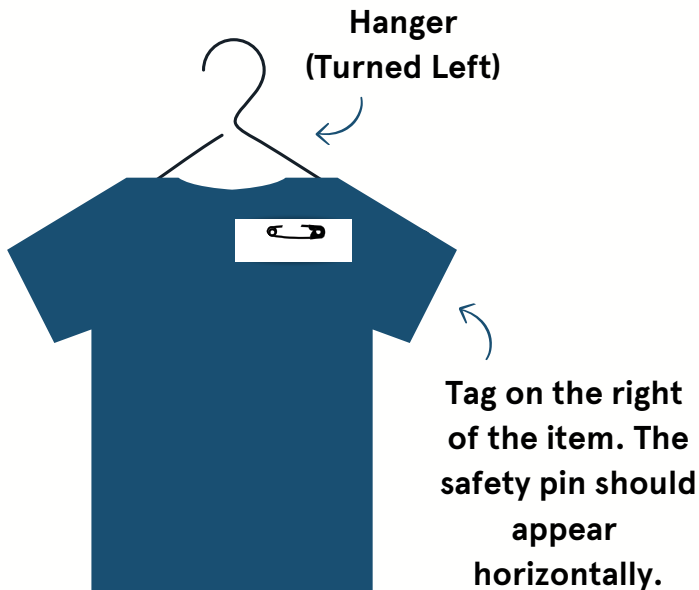

To prevent holes in fabric, avoid using safety pins on delicate materials and attach tags to seams or sturdy areas. Double-check for small snags or tears before consigning, as damaged items may not be accepted.

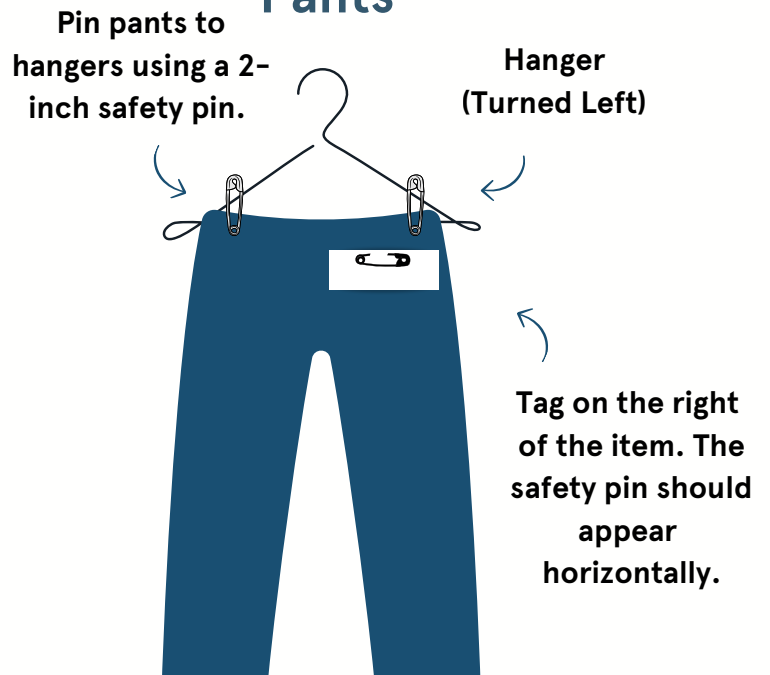

1. Prep + Tag

Ensure your tagged clothing appears like this:

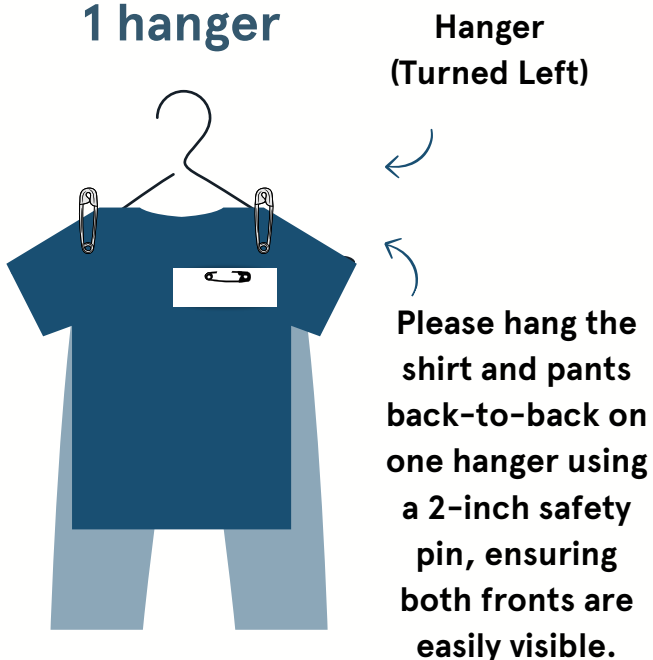

Shirts

Pants

Clothing sets, 1 hanger

Hats

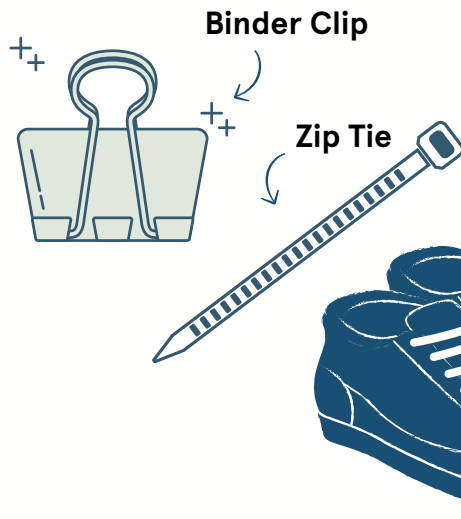

For hats, just like with any other item, use a zip tie to attach the tag if there's a label or suitable attachment point. If not, a safety pin is the next best option.

1. Prep + Tag Continued...

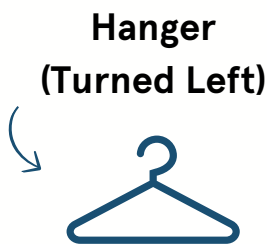

Ensure your tagged shoes appear like this:

Shoes should be fastened together by zip-tying the lace holes or attaching a binder clip to the ankle collar, ensuring the pair remains united.

*We try to hang the shoes on display so we ask that the zip tie hang loosely on the shoes.

Ensure your tagged carriers appear like this:

Place all Ergobaby, Snuglis, Omni Breeze, Bjorn Carriers, Slings, Head Supports, etc. on hangers for display. Pin in place.

1. Prep + Tag Continued...

Ensure your tagged books appear like this:

Painters
Tape

For attaching tags to books painter's tape is the ideal choice as it prevents tearing. Make sure to cover the item's original barcode with painter's tape, ensuring our system scans the barcode on your tag instead. Secure the tag on all four sides with the tape. When grouping multiple titles together, place them in a Ziploc bag, seal it with clear packing tape, and attach the tag to the bag, clearly listing each title in the tag's description.

Ensure your tagged games & puzzles appear like this:

Painters
Tape

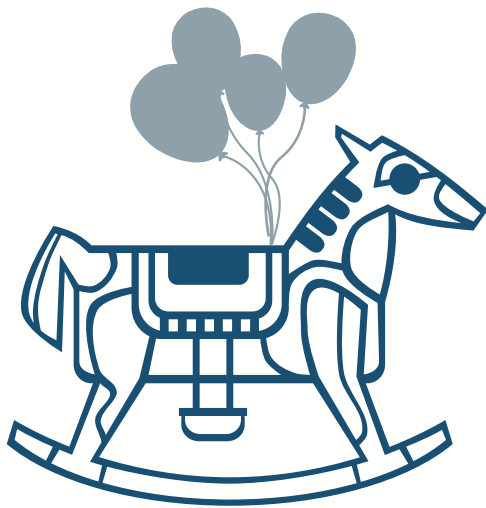

For attaching tags to games and puzzle boxes, painter's tape is the ideal choice as it prevents tearing. Before sealing boxed items, count the number of pieces and indicate "all pieces included" on the tag. For wooden puzzles, wrap them in plastic wrap before taping; this prevents tape from damaging the puzzle's surface. Use clear packing tape to seal the plastic wrap, ensuring it doesn't directly touch the puzzle. Alternatively, 2-gallon Ziploc bags are a great fit for puzzles and offer additional protection against damage.

1. Prep + Tag Continued...

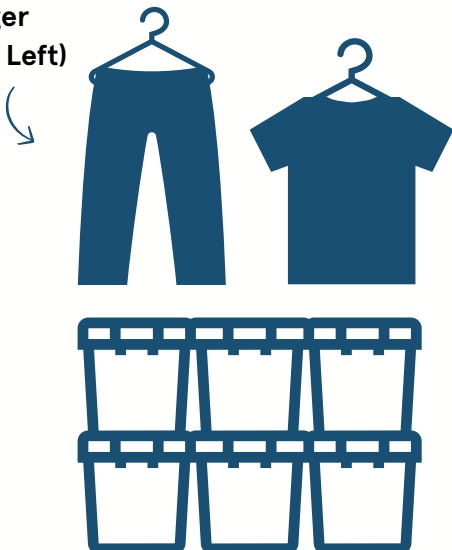

Ensure your tagged toys appear like this:

← Toys are meant for play, so it's important to secure all parts properly! We cannot guarantee the safety of toy parts if they become separated. If you're selling a toy with multiple pieces, make sure they are well-secured together. Also, all battery-operated items must include batteries. Since we don't offer returns, shoppers are cautious about buying items that might not work. You can find batteries at dollar stores, a cost-effective way to ensure your items are ready for sale.

Ensure your tagged items at drop off appear like this:

Hanger
(Turned Left)

← After placing tagged items on hangers, please group them into storage bins. For added efficiency, we suggest arranging your items in these bins by size and gender.

8. Prohibited Items

As part of our commitment to safety, we require all consignors to ensure their items have not been recalled. Before submitting your items for consignment, please visit the Safe Kids' product recall website to verify that your items are safe and compliant. This step is crucial to maintain the safety and integrity of our sale.

Please visit the following link to check for recalled items: Safe Kids Product Recalls

No Christmas lights, paper goods, ornaments, or stockings. No wine racks. No “Live Laugh Love” or similar word signs. No dorm room décor, corporate swag, or outdated frames. We do not accept half-used candles, stained fabrics, or unclean kitchen gadgets. No plain rectangle mirrors.

1. Pricing

Maximize your sales and declutter! Selling your items not only declutters your space but also brings in extra cash.

Here's a general pricing guideline: set your prices at about 1/4 to 1/3 of the item's original retail value. The exact price can vary based on the brand and condition of the item. Typically, items shouldn't be priced above 1/3 of the original cost unless they are brand new, unused, still in their original packaging, or have tags attached.

Consider offering a 50% discount during discount days. It's often better to sell items at a discount price and clear out your space than to be left with unsold items. When creating your tags, opt out of the discount only for select items you prefer not to sell at a discount on the final day. If you're planning to donate any items that don't sell, and you're using white tags for them, definitely choose the discount option. Remember, the appeal of your pricing can depend on the brand and condition of each item.

Bundling in Bags

For better organization and sales efficiency, it's recommended to bundle small toys and similar items in bags before consigning. This practice aids in smoother handling and display at the sale. Securely close the bag with tape and firmly attach the price tag to the outside. The same approach applies to socks and small accessories like hair bows and infant mittens. Arrange these items flatly in the bag, remove excess air, and seal it with tape. Then, affix the tag securely on the outside.

For larger accessories, such as baseball caps, bagging is not necessary. Simply attach the tag directly to the item using a safety pin, zip tie, or tagging gun for secure and visible pricing.

Pricing Continued...

Creating Outfits & Bundles

Feel free to bundle items into sets for consignment. Ensure that all items on a single hanger are of the same size. Begin by hanging one item on the hanger, and then securely attach additional pieces to the hanger using safety pins. Make sure to place pins in seams to avoid fabric damage. This approach simplifies the process of presenting coordinated outfits and sets for sale.

1. Preparation:

Please sort clothing into separate bins by gender: boys and girls, and clearly label the gender on the outside of each bin. This assists our taggers, especially when distinguishing items such as jeans. Items already on hangers can be left as such. Please categorize the items into two groups within each bin: those designated for donation and those scheduled for pick-up. Ensure all items are free from stains, tears, or odors.

Examine them under bright light for easier stain detection. Iron clothes if necessary. Clean shoes thoroughly - Crocs can be conveniently washed in the washing machine! Magic erasers work wonders for cleaning soles and toys. All items should be complete, in working order, and free from damage.

2. Drop-Off Date and Time:

There are three locations for drop off: Columbia, West Columbia and Lexington, SC. Fill out the drop off form on our website when the We Tag service opens.

3. Inspection and Sorting:

Your items will be inspected for compliance with our quality standards and guidelines. This step helps ensure that all items meet our event's quality criteria. Items that do not meet these standards may not be accepted and returned to you.

4. Pricing and Tag Verification:

As a service to our consigners, we will personally handle the tagging of your items. This includes providing essential details such as size, description, and pricing, ensuring each item is accurately and effectively presented for sale.

5. Item Placement:

Every item we tag for consigners is assured a spot on the sales floor by our team, provided it meets our quality standards, guaranteeing optimal visibility for each item throughout the event.

6. Volunteer Opportunities:

Consider volunteering for a shift during the sale to earn early shopping privileges and additional benefits (5-15% additional earnings). Volunteering is a great way to get involved and meet other consignors.
